FELTED VESSELS

During this workshop expect to create a variety of visually exciting 3D sculptured felted vessels. You will learn how to make a template to suit your chosen form and how to construct sturdy, well finished and unique vessels. We will explore many elements of surface design such as 'cracked surface' technique and sculptured texture. Some basic felting experience is an advantage though not essential.

ORGANIC FORMS IN FELT

During this workshop we will explore various textures and forms found in nature and translate these into abstract 3D sculptures in felt. By using a variety of manipulation techniques and resists, you can expect to make several unique sculptures. Special attention will be given to structure and finish. Some felting experience is recommended.
